Product description:

The HUB GC Connect60 adapter increases the convenience and efficiency of using a MacBook to the maximum. Turn two USB-C ports into eight of the most frequently used ports and enjoy unlimited access to all your devices and accessories directly from your Ultrabook.

Ports: 3x USB 3.0, 1x HDMI 4K (30Hz), 1x Ethernet 1Gbps, 1x USB-C Power Delivery

The USB-C Thunderbolt 3 port, with up to 40Gbps, offers speeds of up to five seconds for transferring 2000 shots or a full-length movie. It also offers 100W Power Delivery charging. Data transfer and charging has never been so fast. Two USB-C ports in GC Connect60 provide extreme data transfer and charging time, but also radically increase the durability of the whole design.

Combined with the non-slip surface, it is extremely stable when mounted to the MacBook case, preventing the port from accidentally breaking or being damaged. In addition, the rugged aluminum design increases resistance to drops and scratches.

The GC Connect60 adapter is the perfect companion in any situation thanks to its small dimensions and light weight.

A picture that impresses

Connect one 5K or two 4K monitors while maintaining smooth image in 60hz

Thunderbolt 3 also allows direct connection to an external eGPU graphics card to the MacBook, like Apple Blackmagic

Thought-out design

Reliability thanks to non-slip surface and stable connection via two USB Type C ports

Perfect profiling guarantees stability and durability

With the HUB GC Connect60 you can connect a 5K monitor (60 Hz) or two 4K monitors (60 Hz) to the Thunderbolt 3 port of your MacBook, ensuring the best image quality and fluidity.

This port also allows you to connect an external eGPU graphics card directly to your MacBook, including Apple Blackmagic, making it an extremely efficient device for playing, creating graphics, or editing movies.

Take work and entertainment to the highest level!
